

INFORMATION IS PROPERTY

The information produced and circulated within company environment is strictly corporate property. The use and propagation of any such data can and will result in serious physical and psychological harm for which the management does not hold any responsibility whatsoever.